

Joseph F. Smith Building

(2002-2003)

Located on Brigham Young University Campus, Provo, Utah. Constructed with soldier pile / tiebacks and soil nail shoring construction to support existing structures and utilities around the perimeter. The building foundation also required micropile support for adequate bearing capacity.