

University of Utah Medical Center (2006-2007)

U of U Campus, Salt Lake City, Utah. Excavation to allow expansion of existing medical facilities. Required complex composite shoring for construction of excavation. Combinations of soil nail, micropile and soldier piles were used throughout, for building support and shored faces to thirty-five feet deep.